scholarly information for educational science

www.german-education-portal.de

A service provided by the German Institute for International Educational Research.

FACHPORTALpaedagogik.DE – the German Education Portal

The services of the German Education Portal mainly address professionals in educational research and practice, and those interested in educational science.

Professional databases providing specific information, and comprehensive collations of information concerning various aspects of educational information, constitute the core of the information system.

Our users can access resources that are crucial to the context of professional educational research, i.e. details describing literature, information on the availability of the referred titles, professional information concerning persons, institutions, projects etc.

The internet portal provides three entry points:

German Education Index

- ▶ References to literature regarding all areas of education and pedagogically relevant literature (subscription required)

pedocs Document Server

- ▶ pedocs provides open access to educational literature. Authors are welcome to upload their electronic publications if relevant to educational research.

Metasearch

- ▶ Provides access to various educational databases

Subject Directory

- ▶ In co-operation with the German Education Server, the scholarly online resources are systematised and made accessible via a browsing structure.
